

Dear Friends,

Thanks for Popping in my Website

It is known that Article 6.2 of the European Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms states: "Everyone charged with a criminal offense shall be presumed innocent until proved guilty according to law".

Similarly, in almost every country in the world, there is a statute that proclaims this fundamental principle.

However, grounding on my personal experience, I would say rather that: "Everyone charged with a sexual offense is presumed guilty until declared innocent out of mercy".

I do mean "out of pity" because the judge cannot be forced to believe you in your denials, even if there is no evidence whatsoever of the alleged offense.

Nothing even compels him to believe the evidence you bring in support of your innocence, although you don't have to... for the judge accounts to no one but his own conscience.

From the outset, you are straightaway presented in the eyes of the public as a culprit: your name and your photos are in the press, while no one knows the identity of the accusers.

You are thrown in detention; taken away from the affection of your beloved ones, spouse, children, family in general or friends; deprived of the right to work or travel; and people you never saw before, insult you without knowing the truth.

Meanwhile, the accusers, straightforwardly called "victims" by the media, the magistrates and the police, do not worry about how to prove the accusations, since they are overprotected, cocooned, and even cherished.

In this fearsome trap in which your whole life is suspended and your future out of your control, only the pity of a judge can put an end to your ordeal when reason has deserted the decisions taken by the others, no longer abiding by the law.

This idea will be the main thread of my developments on this website, with the strong hope that anyone invested with a decision-making power, wherever in the world, will do whatever it takes to stop this dreadful situation.

It is not up to the one claiming innocence to provide the evidence supporting this innocence; and judges must not be stubborn enough to wreck the defendant's life, just because the case at issue is a matter of morals... where lies so much hypocrisy if not passion or deliberate blindness.

The plaintiff, who is accusing without providing any proof, can perfectly be acting out of malice or financial greed; as well as unbeknownst to herself, she may be manipulated to serve the hatred of another, such as her attorney.

The D.A may also have any despicable reasons for wanting the social elimination of the alleged offender, especially if the latter is, as such is my case, a pugnacious lawyer who has few good reasons to complain, inter alia, of unfair discrimination, namely xenophobia.

This is what I have directly been through for almost three years, of which the aftermath still torments me.

Although I am not a native English speaker, I tried to the best of my knowledge, to express myself in English, because I would like my reflection to go beyond the French-language media space, which in my view, is still too much influenced by some racist if not colonial prejudices.

Nonetheless, the documents here online are French-written, as they are related to the legal paperwork exhibited in court.

Admittedly, they are not confidential, since the investigation that was conducted by a judge and the police is complete to date; but I will discretionally grant free access to the writs and memos, only on request addressed personally to me.

Of course, due to the technicality of the legal language and the huge volume of pages, I cannot afford to translate them.

On the other hand, the self-made videos here, do not really need to be translated from English to French since anyone who has reached the secondary level at school has the ability to identify or at least guess my words, in an English language that surely needs some improvements.

If I hope you will enjoy the tour, above all, I wish you never to be accused of a sexual crime you did not commit.

With my kindest regards!

Jacques Tchibozo
